

ABSTRACT

A method for performing motion estimation on a received stream of data comprising a plurality of bidirectionally interpolated frames (B-frame) and a plurality of anchor frames by 5 unidirectionally predicting content of each of the plurality of B-frames from a select anchor frame.